Volume 3, No. 6

November 2017

FROM THE EDITORS

Welcome to the November 2017 edition of the Divine Love Newsletter! It is with great pleasure that we bring you articles and news of events and accomplishments of our dear brothers and sisters in Christ from around the world.

We celebrate the life of Percy D. Hayes who transitioned into the spiritual realms on October 11th. Percy, along with his late wife Phyllis, were instrumental in spreading the news of the New Birth in the Greater Vancouver area. They had their own television show called "The Psychics", which was very popular and ran for more than eight years. Percy was a beloved soul who left this world a better place than he found it. Percy's daughters Darlene Gaunt and Dorothy Clauson continue his legacy in spreading God's Love and Light.

William Montano shares a personal story about his search for the truth. Growing up fatherless, he longed for the Love of his Heavenly Father. While for a time, his mind was satisfied with New Age teachings, his soul yearned for the Love of God. Embarking on the path of Divine Love, he experienced a great inflowing of the Love which, in turn, led to soulful expiations. Through the support of community members and prayer, he kept his faith in God and pushed through the expiations. William feels he is now in a "better soul condition than ever"!

Elizabeth Morana gives us soulful insights into our journey as human beings here on earth and beyond. Her reflections are too deep to summarize in a few sentences. You will have to experience them for yourself.

Patricia Doyle describes her experience of attending the Afterlife Research and Education Institute (AREI) Symposium. She has been sharing the truths of God's Love in hopes of being a presenter at a future conference. She sold 14 copies of her booklets and feels this spiritualist community is ready to embrace the Padgett messages. She, and several others from the Divine Love community, plan on attending next year's Symposium in Scottsdale, Arizona, held September 14-16.

Alex and Eva Peck present to us a beautiful poem. I think you will agree with me that they have a gift in creating poetry which is not only well written, but contains profound truths.

We also have good news from Judy Gebhart who initiated a fund-raising campaign to provide a lifetime endowment fund toward the restoration of Helen and Helenita's headstone at Mount Olivet Cemetery. Not only did she achieve her goal, but she has just received the first photos showing progress of the restoration work. Way to go, Judy!

Many thanks to all our contributors for their support. We always welcome readers' comments, as well as inspiring stories, project updates, retreat reports, articles, personal Divine Love reflections or experiences – anything that you think would be of interest to other Community members.

OBITUARY: REVEREND PERCY D. HAYES (JULY 29, 1931 - OCTOBER 11, 2017)

Percy passed peacefully to Heaven on October 11th, joining his beloved soulmate Phyllis who predeceased him in 2000. He was ordained as a Reverend in 1972, and was a Trustee in the Foundation Church of the New Birth since 1991. Percy was a teacher, healer, and loving channel of light who taught and demonstrated the truth of God's Divine Love. He will be especially remembered for his work as Santa Claus, and specifically as the "Guildford Santa Claus", having worked at the Guildford Town Centre in Surrey, BC, Canada for twelve years. Percy loved the spirit of Christmas and he shared this joy with many children and their families.

Percy's "Celebration of Life" was held on October 19, 2017 at the Valley View Funeral Home in Surrey, BC. Daughters Darlene Gaunt and Dorothy Clauson, and their families, thank everyone for their expressions of love. Darlene and Dorothy plan to write an article for the next newsletter issue on the special events that took place on the last day of Percy's life.

MY STORY, MY TRUTH (WILLIAM MONTANO)

Ever since I can remember as a young child, there was always something that didn't make sense in my heart about the doctrines and practices of my religion. When I would ask, why this and why that, I was always told, "those are the mysteries of our faith". Still my heart was not convinced or satisfied and continued to hunger for truths. However, growing up in the Catholic religion and traditions, it seemed like there was nothing else for me to explore.

I was raised by a single parent (my mother), who was physically abusive towards me until the age of twelve. There were four of us siblings, and my mother didn't know how to deal with the pressures of being a single parent. I was truly searching for love, the love of a father that I never had, someone I could call "dad", someone who could protect me, pick me up and guide me in the right direction.

Unfortunately, growing up without the love and support of a father, I came to believe that a father figure was not necessary for a child to do well in life. This led me to neglect my first two children with my first wife.

As I grew older and had more freedom to search, I explored many different religions and doctrines, but none of them satisfied my hunger for truths and closeness to God. One day I gave up searching and decided not to believe in God as an entity, but rather as a substance in all creation, and I became a "new age" follower. But even though my mind took over justifying our existence through mere creation, my heart would still feel that there was a "Divine Creator" – my true Divine Father.

One day as I was watching a you-tube teaching by one of my new age spiritual teachers, she was asked if she knew of a man who called himself Jesus, AJ Miller, and if she felt he was the real deal. Her reply was yes, this man is Christ consciousness. I immediately searched for this AJ Miller, aka "Jesus" and was amazed to hear some truths that resonated powerfully with my soul perception at that time. After just in a few days of devouring these truths, my heart and mind made a 180 degree turn towards God again. I felt so blessed that I had finally found what my heart hungered for all my life.

However, after a few months of constantly watching AJ Miller, I felt I was not progressing spiritually, nor getting closer to people or God. I was becoming judgemental and felt justified in pointing out the flaws of everyone around me – just like AJ Miller was treating his audience. I didn't like myself nor AJ Miller anymore, so I decided to stop following him.

One day, however, I decided to follow up on one of his powerful messages where he mentioned the Padgett messages, so I immediately searched for these volumes and obtained them from the FCNB. These messages revealed the secret to me – to pray to my Heavenly Father to open my soul for the inflowing of His Divine Love and for the rebirth of my soul.

I felt once again so blessed to have these most powerful truths at my fingertips. As I was reading these truths, I also felt the need for some spiritual guidance. One day when I got on my computer, Eva Peck's website was on my screen, truly by divine intervention. My loving sister and angel in the flesh, Eva introduced me to beautiful people in the Divine Love community and I later joined two Divine Love prayer circles.

Immediately after praying for this Divine Love in the prayer circles, I began to feel a powerful bliss and soul transformation. I started seeing things differently and in a more loving way. I suddenly became very emotional, wanting to cry out all my pain accumulated in my heart from a lifetime. I felt such a wonderful relief. For a long time, I felt like I was walking on water – feeling the love of God doing wonderful things in me and in my present wife and two new daughters.

But one day, my wife pushed the wrong button, or should I say the perfect button (the next emotional error needing to be released) on me. This made me go off on her in an unloving manner. After that, I started feeling very troubled and disharmonious by a lot of issues. Emotions and feelings that started popping out in my life made me doubt the celestial truths and Divine Love of God. I was so devastated and disappointed with myself and God again because I thought that this Divine Love had already healed me completely.

My sisters in Christ, Eva and Jan, and brothers Thomas and Mira kept praying for me and my family, never giving up on me. I cried and cried and asked God to tell me what had happened to me – where did I go wrong?

God then answered my prayer and I was led to learn about "The Emotion Code" which is a natural way of clearing and releasing emotional injuries and blockages. It made sense to me, but it was not a divine process, so I was guided to consult with Eva about it and she sent me a couple of celestial messages relating to this, channelled by my brother in Christ, Al Fike. These messages explained exactly what I was going through – the expiation and purification process of my soul that is necessary for the rebirth of my soul for God to be able to use me.

It is presently my soul perception, understanding and experience, that this beautiful Divine Love from the Soul of our Heavenly Father is actually flowing into my soul more than ever, and doing what it's supposed to do in my soul during its purification and transformation. It is dissolving and burning to ashes some of the emotional errors (which brings immediate bliss/the honeymoon effect), but the subtler errors need to be expiated, released, and pushed out by God's Divine Love, to be completely healed.

Unfortunately, as these emotional toxins are released, they cause emotional, psychological and physical turmoil in us and our bodies. It must be our desire to acknowledge and release with love and without judgement, these hurtful emotional errors manifesting themselves as illnesses, diseases, and disharmonies in our physical bodies, discouragement, unloving thoughts, dislike of people and circumstances, loss of faith, temptations, judgment, and so much more.

I am now in a better soul condition than ever, enjoying everything and everyone around me -- my wife, my two grown kids and my two little ones, and most of all, my relationship with my Heavenly Father.

This is so far my story, my truth in search of love, in search of truth.

THAT RIVER (ELIZABETH MORANA)

It occurs to me as I awaken this morning: The only true enduring 'me' is non-material, alive, forward-moving. That is ME. THAT, only.

Sink into that. Into the true and only real, loving me. It is this that enlivens the impermanent ever-changing flesh. Bones and teeth thin out, muscles weaken, eyes dim, nerves fray. The river of the non-material self continues flowing. Its trajectory continues as the material, impermanent, visible, more easily manipulated self wears down and eventually comes to a halt.

We understandably and inevitably experience fear when we identify solely with our material self. Its vulnerability is so painfully obvious.

Can you sense your non-material core of effortless energy, that naturally-occurring life? Can you touch its edge? Can you sense a wisp of it?

Maybe as you slowly awaken in your quiet house, after your dreams have floated away, leaving only the vaguest of impressions, does that slow-moving River of YOU become impossible to ignore?

Image from pixabay.com

Maybe the blood coursing through our veins, carrying needed nutrients to our flesh can hint at the deeper stream of life that is enlivening this material, ever-changing, more obvious body?

When others think of me, speak to me, talk about me, they are sure – and I am confusedly sure with them – that I am that image in my mirror and I look, surprised, at the changing face there.

And I am shocked at the disappearance of my beloveds when they die. How could that be, I wonder. That is not possible. Inwardly, I twist in horror.

Perhaps my shock and horror are not revealing the awful truth to which I must adjust. To which we all try to adjust.

Let me look again. What has really happened here? What is here? What was here? I sit in silence, open, waiting.

There it is again, that River. It is still moving in there. And the river of my beloveds – our mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers, our sons and daughters, and our beloved pets. They are all here too.

All of them, those still enlivening the flesh and those no longer enlivening the flesh. They are here. I am here. We are all here.

BURGEONING INTEREST IN AFTERLIFE STUDIES (PATRICIA DOYLE)

Image from Patricia Doyle.

In September, I had the pleasure of attending the Afterlife Research and Education Institute (AREI) Symposium, described by many of the participants, including myself, as a “love fest”. It was held in Scottsdale, AZ, with over 530 people in attendance! The event was so popular that registration (costing $325 per person) had to be cut off the week before because the hotel conference center could not handle more!

This three-day event was jam-packed with 31 (yes, thirty-one) inspiring and entertaining presentations by celebrities like George Noory, host of the nationally syndicated radio program, Coast to Coast AM. I am now reading his third book, Talking to the Dead, which he autographed two years ago while I told him about the Padgett messages at the ASCSI (Academy for Spiritual and Consciousness Studies Inc.) Afterlife Conference. That conference, held in September 2015 in Scottsdale, AZ, had 300 attendees. The AREI is a new organization formed as an outgrowth of that conference. Since last year was skipped, this was considered the second annual symposium.

AREI is a non-profit service organization dedicated to helping afterlife researchers, program developers, educators, and practitioners advance their work to help humanity evolve – to realize that we are eternal beings, death is just a transition to the next stage of life, and we are here to grow together in love and compassion. The Institute believes that this change in humankind will occur when afterlife communication becomes commonplace and we can have continued relationships with loved ones who have passed before us. They encourage and facilitate networking and dialogue. All work and services are provided for free (but the symposium is not free).

This year's symposium offered a selection of presentations by Reiki practitioners, hypnotherapists, authors, psychologists, NDE/OBE experiencers, professors, ministers of religion, mediums, life/spiritual coaches, metaphysical/spiritual explorers, and representatives from over twenty organizations, including:

- Mark Anthony (psychic lawyer, famous evidential medium, entertaining, insightful, intelligent);
- Suzanne Giesemann (author of 10 books, former U.S. Navy Commander, now an evidential medium);
- Susanne Wilson (participant in controlled scientific research, known as one of the best and most skilled evidential mediums);
- Roberta Grimes (attorney who reportedly co-authored a book with Jesus entitled Liberating Jesus, author of several books on the afterlife, AREI board member);
- Victor and Wendy Zammit (AREI board members and Australian authors of A Lawyer Presents the Evidence for the Afterlife, bestselling and widely acclaimed book); and
- Susan Barnes (international medium, communication professor, and spirit artist in Cassadaga, NY, teaches at Lilydale, gave workshop on organizing physical mediumship circles).

At the banquet on Saturday night, scientific proof of mediumship was presented by the pioneering Gary E. Schwartz (professor of psychology, medicine, neurology, psychiatry and surgery at the University of Arizona). He also spoke about the SoulPhone technology that he and his assistants (on both sides of the veil) have been diligently working on for years.

Craig Hogan, president of the board of AREI directors, gave the audience a sample of the Afterlife Connections procedure which he developed. This self-guided technique (freely available at selfguided.spiritualunderstanding.org) teaches people "how to guide themselves into a connection with loved ones on the next plane of life." His demonstration gave us a brief experience of this. Prior to his work for AREI, Craig was a professor of business communications at three universities; curriculum and training administrator at two universities and a medical school; and director of his own online business writing school.

The importance of being in continuous communication with our loved ones on the other side, and especially the Celestials, cannot be overstated. We receive messages from the spirit world and are influenced by the spirit world in everything we do! I love how AREI is striving to bring forth the parting of the veils, so that afterlife communication will become not only widely recognized and accepted, but also widely practiced!

My purpose in attending the symposium this year (as well as two years ago) was to introduce the Padgett messages and Divine Love to as many people as possible, and to make connections so I could be considered as a speaker in the future, to present Jesus' true teachings to a larger audience. This committed and professional audience is so ready for this! I put some of my booklets in the bookstore, and sold fourteen copies, even though I was not a presenter! I didn't expect to sell any, but just wanted a chance for exposure, so I'm very encouraged by this. I also gave several away, as I usually do.

The 2018 AREI symposium has already been scheduled for September 14-16, in Scottsdale, Arizona. They are offering a discount on membership until the end of the year ($25 instead of $39), and if as a member, you register for the symposium before May 15, 2018, the cost is reduced to $150. (To get the $150 rate, go to afterlifesymposium.org and click on the "Register" link. If you become a member for $25, you receive a $45 discount off the $195 fee, but only until May 15, 2018.

I have already registered. Joseph Babinsky, Tim Foley, Joan Warden, and Terry Adler have expressed their intention to register to also take advantage of the "Super early bird" discount. More information is available at afterlifeinstitute.org.

I am blessed to live during these exciting times, and to be part of the movement that is enlightening humanity on how to connect directly with God, and receive the immense blessings in store for us all in living with each other in a more evolved, loving way!

POETRY CORNER

Cherish the Present Moment

Alex and Eva Peck

How precious are times with friends, even moments that seem plain;
For, once gone, they can never be experienced again!

So, we need to savour and treasure our times with people;
Using each moment to edify, for there may be no sequel.

All phenomena come from causes and conditions in constant change,
Like a rainbow that appears when sunlight hits a shower on a range.

Occurrences influence each other in a constant dynamic,
And nothing just happens in life's events, so panoramic!

The myriad causes and conditions that brought about a situation,
Can never be recreated in just that exact formation!

One unknown day, we will each leave this life totally alone;
Nothing we can take with us from all that we presently own.

Our family and friends, too, will all have to go their separate ways;
So, while we have this precious life, let's seek to live fruitful days.

There's a vital lesson and earnest advice in the lines above:
May each of our encounters be filled with heartfelt love.

Love is patient, not self-seeking, and is always kind;
It doesn't boast or envy; nor puts others in a bind.

Love is not proud and doesn't dishonour others,
No record of wrongs it keeps, but hurts and wounds it covers.

Love delights not in evil, but rejoices in the truth.
Love never fails – in one's old age, adulthood, and youth.

RESTORATION OF HELEN PADGETT FAMILY'S HEADSTONES

In July, Judy Gebhart initiated a fund-raising campaign to provide a lifetime endowment fund toward the restoration of Helen and Helenita's headstone at Mount Olivet Cemetery. The endowment costs $1,000 for lifetime care and maintenance of the above-mentioned headstone, as well as the adjoining headstones of Helen's parents and her two brothers. This money has now been raised and Judy has received the agreement from Mount Olivet Cemetery for the restoration of the headstones to begin. The cemetery will keep sending photos of progress to show how the cleaner works. The images here are the first received and show the progress after only a couple of weeks. More progress is expected as time goes on.

There is already an agreement established for the care and maintenance of vases with flowers adjacent to the tombstones. It is therefore nice that the Padgett headstones will now also be cared for.

Before and after pictures of the restoration of Helen's headstone.

If you'd like a PDF copy of the agreement, you can contact Judy.

Dennis Tormey has kindly provided access to photos taken at Helen and Helenita's gravesite when he, Suzie, and Elizabeth Morana visited the area. New Divine Love followers will be able to see that Helen indeed was a real person who once lived on earth.

CHILDREN'S SANCTUARY NAMIBIA UPDATE (TERRY ADLER)

Children's Sanctuary Namibia (CSN) is in the process of applying to Canada Revenue Agency for charitable status. Once granted, this will allow CSN to issue tax receipts to Canadian donors. On Thursday, October 19, CSN had its first in-person board meeting at Barb Davies' home in West Vancouver. They were thrilled to have present the founder, Helge Mercker, freshly arrived from Namibia that day. The board consists of Helge Mercker as President, Terry Adler as Vice-President, Judy Dunbar as Secretary, Betty Owen as Treasurer, and Mimi Gellman as member-at-large. The board is engaging a lawyer to assist with the preparation of the charitable status application. The process can take six to twelve months. Your prayers are invited for the continued success of CSN's efforts in providing food, sanctuary and education to orphaned and vulnerable children in Drimiopsis, Namibia.

St. Paul's comments on the preacher's beliefs. Perfection is a relative term.

I am here, St. Paul.

I was with you tonight at the meeting, and heard what the young man said about perfection, and I agree entirely with his ideas and the application of the truth to the lives of human beings.

He had the correct conception of what perfection means, and when he said that perfection is a relative term, he spoke the exact truth. No man can expect to have the perfection of the Father in quantity, but he may in quality; for the Spirit of Truth that enters into the soul of a man in response to prayer and faith is a part of the Divine nature of the Father, and the essence is the same, and the quality must be the same; but, of course, no man can obtain it to the extent of making him pure and holy as the Father is pure and holy. Even we who live in the high Celestial Heavens have not that perfection which the Father has. But let men know that even while on earth they can obtain this inflowing of the Holy Spirit in their hearts to such an extent that sin and error will be entirely eradicated. This, I say, is possible, but few men attain to such a state of perfection, because the worldly affairs and natural appetites which belong to mortals are always interfering to prevent the makings of the spirit in men's souls so that perfection of this kind may take possession of them. But notwithstanding this great difficulty, and material desires of men, they should have this perfect ideal before them always, and strive to obtain the possession of it.

I was much interested in the discourse not only because it was founded on a text attributed to me, but because of the right conception and the explanation made by the young man.

I could see his soul and its workings, and I was glad to know that he possessed this Divine Love to an unusual degree, and was fitted almost for a home in the Celestial Spheres. You were benefited by what he said, and you felt the influence of the presence of the Holy Spirit at the meeting.

If the people of this church would understand that there is only one thing that saves them from their sins and makes them at-one with the Father, and that is the inflowing of the Divine Love into their souls, which was what Jesus meant when he told Nicodemus that he must be born again, they would easily see that their doctrine of holiness is not only a reasonable doctrine but one in accord with the truths of God; for as this Divine Love fills their souls, all sin and error must disappear.

Of course this is a relative matter, for it depends upon how much of this Divine Love is in their souls to determine how much of sin or error exists. The more of the Divine Love, the less of sin, and on the contrary, the more of sin the less of the Divine Love. But, I want to say with all the emphasis that I am capable of, that it is possible for a human being to obtain such a quantity of this Divine Love in his soul that sin will be entirely eradicated. This was the doctrine taught by Jesus, and this is the truth of God's law of Love.

I know that the great majority of mankind do not believe this truth and think it foolishness, and that those who claim that they have received this Divine Love to a great degree are enthusiastic fanatics, and not worthy of credence, but I want to tell you that no greater truth was ever proclaimed by the Master; and sometime, in the not far distant future, many men who are now merely intellectual Christians will believe and embrace and experience this great truth.

You will find yourself much benefited by attending these meetings, and while there are some things in their creed to which you do not subscribe, yet they have the foundation truth that the Divine Love of the Father can clear their souls from all sins, and make them perfect, to the extent that they receive that Love in their souls.

I will not write more tonight, but will say that the Holy Spirit which conveys God's Love to man is with these people in great power and fullness and manifests its workings in a real and irresistible manner. And God is blessing them and giving them that faith which enables them to become overcomers and inheritors of immortality and homes in the Celestial Heavens.

So without taking up more of your time, I will say good night and God bless you.

Your brother in Christ, St. Paul
